A Place at the Table

Last week I stood on the top of Poon Hill (3200m) in the Himalayas, struggling for breath after climbing what seemed thousands of rock ladders. My body was clearly not used to this type of altitude

Apart from my profound admiration for Sir Edmund Hillary in climbing Mt Everest (8,874m) with minimal gear and only oxygen at the last few metres, I reflected to myself, there was something in common with all the other climbers around me from all parts of the world - we were all struggling for the air around us

There was no breathing of Islamic air, Jewish air, Catholic air, gay air, rich air or poor air or any such artificial divides among human beings. We were simply struggling to breathe air. And there really was plenty of air to breathe...fitness of each person excluded!

Somehow in the world community there are too many people who do not have a place at the table. They are dispossessed from their countries, families and homes. They struggle for survival at every level. And no economist quite knows the answer to these issues.

The inequality debate in NZ we heard at the election is another indicator of a lack of place at the table.

When Edmund Rice established schools in poverty stricken Ireland, he insisted that the students were all dressed in suits which he made in a tailor shop. No one would know who was rich or poor but were all around a table of dignity.

He enrolled Protestant children into Catholic schools at a time when sectarian hatred knew no bounds. He enrolled them around a table of learning.

He often spoke about school students rubbing shoulders with all religions and economic ways of life. He gathered them around the table of education- the great leveller in society.

One of the opportunity a school like St Peters College offers is its ability to offer to its 1200 boys, an environment where rich and poor, and many different cultures coexist daily as they grow up with a view of the world that speaks of excellence with equity for all.

A place at the St Peters table extends to the many (17) sporting codes offered at the college...catering for the different needs of many boys.

A place at the St Peters table extends to many boys with the growth in arts, music and public speaking culture.

A place at the St Peters table with the Kairos, retreat programme as well as the reflective immersion trips to India and Philippines, gives an depth experience to many of our senior boys.

The challenge is to ensure that St. Peter's college, in the future, continues to offer the many places at the table for students and staff and that we set up structures to ensure continuity of this philosophy.

As I have experienced recently, breathing rarefied air becomes a struggle and is not exactly a great way to live one's life.

College Development Plans:

1. The New 12 Classroom Block along Mountain Road is taking shape quite rapidly. The projected opening is around mid term 1 2015 (St Patricks Day?) It will house the Humanities and Mathematics faculties.

This is financed by parental building contributions.

2. The Visual Arts and Design Faculty will be housed at the top of C Block (Br. Ryan Building). Design plans are being developed for the establishment of a new Arts and Design Suite within these four classrooms. This is financed by Policy one money given to the Propertier for refurbishment of existing plant.

3. The "Front Entrance" Project, including 75th Gates improved entry exit structures is being designed and plans will be available before the end of this term. This project is financed by the PTFA and particularly the annual fair.

4. The College Chapel is moving ahead with the appointment of Patrick Clifford, (Gold award winning architect of the year) as the Design architect for this project which will be financed by the community of St Peters College.

Clearly a stressful term 4 is emerging with external exams, testimonials and applications for tertiary study courses... all competing for the same amount of time! Restraint on many levels is a virtue.

Concerned Your Son Isn't Studying Properly? - Follow this Recipe

I had a great conversation with a parent this week. I asked him what does he attribute the significant improvement in his son's grades to over the last 6 months? The Father said his son declared at the start of the year that he was "old enough to study the way I want and control my own study plan." The Dad said "OK, we will do it your way but if you don't meet your goals in the mid-year exams we'll do it my way." The son proceeded to study his way and failed miserably in the mid-year exams. The son apologised to his Dad and agreed to do it the Dad's way.

As a result his son has had a dramatic turn around.

Here is a 4 step recipe that is proven to work:

1. Sit down with your son and explain to him the importance of a study routine with exams fast approaching.
2. Ask him to come up with some study rules and routines. Do not initially do this for him. It is important the first ideas come from him. This will give him a sense of "owning" the issue.
3. Once he has done step 2 compare his ideas to the St Peter's - Study Guide, Exam Tips and Revision Strategies on our school website. (The quick links are attached at the bottom of this article.)
4. Both of you sign off on an agreed plan.

Warning – please note that for 99% of boys

- Music whilst studying does not work. Silence is best.
- Study groups do not work. Studying alone is best.
- They do not need access to the internet whilst studying.

In summary do not assume your son knows how to study or is motivated to do so.

Strong and specific guidance from Mum or Dad will go a long way!

God's Blessings

Steve Dooley

Middle School Report

At the end of last term the Middle School put on two magnificent nights for Eisteddfod. There was a lot of pressure on both students and staff for their items to go well. Here are a few segments written by year 7 and 8 students about how the evenings went:

I got to do an individual poem which was a bit freaky because I was the first individual person and I was in front of a few hundred people, I'm still glad I did it because it was fun.

I also got to do a class song and poem, the poem wasn't so bad because I had already done something and I was in a class, but a bit embarrassed because we were all in weird costumes. The song wasn't too bad because we knew it well and our costumes weren't so embarrassing, we didn't place in the poem and I don't know where I came in my individual poem, but we placed second in the song. Overall it was a great experience and I would recommend it to the 2015 year sevens.

Aidan Merrick

Year 7 Lynch

On the 24th of September 2014 St. Peter's college held it's 49th annual Eisteddfod competition in the college hall. Most of the boy's parents had attended and were really eager to hear and their son's performing with their classes. The classes consisted of 8G, 8B, 8J, 8R, 8L and the one and only, 8W, the best of them all and my class. The hall was booming with noise and excitement and at 6:15 the competition began....

The first act was 8B with their song Happy. I'm sure the audience had a smile on their face's after that one! Then the solo performances began with Max Hackshaw and Jarrod Peeters taking it out. I'm pretty sure their parents were puffing out their chests with pride! Next up 8L came out and made everyone think for a second about the horrors of WW1 with the poem WW1 commemoration. When I heard it I shuddered at the thought.

Next up 8G came and delivered an old classic "I'm yours" which I'm sure made the audience shed silent tears, (even though I thought they were baa...ok) then Paris Kingdon played an amazing drum solo, which I thought would give AC/DC a run for their money! After that 8R took the stage and delivered their poem the "biggest burp ever" there was definitely a foul stench in the hall after that! The judges were given some time to think and after two more solo acts 8J shook up the audience with their song "shake it off". In my opinion it could have been a second place song; after my class obviously!

After two more solo acts 8W (the best class) shocked the audience with their poem, "the worst poem ever" literally. In my opinion the whole class gave it their all and at the end of it I was really proud of them. A great speech about "no school" delivered by Rudy Uchil really made some of the teachers think I'm sure! And then after another solo act 8L sang "slice of heaven" picturing New Zealand as God's own country. 8B's class poem "three little pigs" brought that boring story into something creative. Next James Saunders played Siciliano on his guitar, which silenced the whole crowd. After that 8R made some people in the crowd faint with their creative girl consumes while they sang "all about that bass" and new hit.

Once again the judges were given some time to think. And then out came 8J with their poem "Teddy Bear Maskery" written by Cole Franklin. Well they did have a point Mr Maskery is quite chubby! Another two solo acts and then..... 8W emerged with our song "Radio Gaga". Some of my friends said that was the best performance of the the night. We were so energised and hungry to win that cup you could see it in the way we sang! We were the last act and after this the judges had a long time to go over the results.....

The hall was in silence. The students, parents and teachers. Mr Mullin gave a short thank you speech, but then the judges took the stage... "The winner of the class poem is.... 8R!!!" The hall erupted in a explosion of screams and moans. The other judge took the microphone and said "the winner of the class song is....8J!!!" I looked at my friend and he looked at me, we couldn't believe what we heard. And then the sound hit us like a train. Screams and shout of joy, flashes of gleaming silverware, we had lost, it was all over.

Auckland Road Race 2014

On a very windy spring day, St Peter's was represented by 9 keen runners at the annual Auckland Road Race event held at Bruce Pulman Park in Papakura. The third term has seen a more intense training programme with the added expertise of Mr Peter Williams helping the boys prepare with 2 early morning runs each week. The many hours of preparation paid off with many of our athletes having their strongest finishes of the distance running season.

Young rookie Liam Barry (Year 10) capped off a superb first full running season with his best overall Auckland-wide result – 2nd place in the Junior Boys division. The junior 3-man team (Liam Barry, Alexander Mildenhall and Matt McCabe) gained a bronze medal for their tactically well executed run. In the Intermediate grade, Pierce Sheridan overcame the pain barrier and finished 6th in a strong field. In the Senior Boys race Sam Pendreigh claimed the gold medal in a pulsating finish. Overall, our runners have completed an excellent winter distance-running season.

The numbers of both competitive and social runners has grown over the year. The success is just reward for the boys efforts this year. The Athletics team are now focusing on the National Secondary Schools Athletics Championships being held in Wanganui in December.

U13 Basketball Champions

Three of our St Peter's Boys, Phoenix Leupolu, Antonio Luetich and Samuel Glover are Under 13 New Zealand Basketball Champions as part of the Waitakere West Auckland U13 Basketball team.

The National U13 Championships were held last week from 8th - 11th of October in Dunedin with the 20 best U13 teams in the country competing for the National Title.

The Waitakere West Auckland team won all their pool games convincingly beating Taranaki 81-35, Gisborne 99-23, Otago 83-24 and Tauranga 107-26 topping their pool to head into the Quarter Finals.

In the Quarter Final they came up against a very strong Hawkes Bay side co-coached by former Breaker and Tall Black, Paora Winitana and came through to win in an exciting finish 63-60. In the Semi Final they played Auckland who had performed well in the tournament and the Waitakere boys came out strong and pulled away to a convincing 72-51 win to make the Grand Final.

They met arch rivals North Harbour in the Final in the most exciting game of U13 basketball I've seen, with both teams displaying skills beyond their years. The Waitakere boys coming back from being 4 points down with 50 seconds left in the game to win by 1 point 56-55.

Phoenix, Antonio and Samuel have been training hard since November last year for this moment, with one goal in mind, to win the National title.

To top it off Phoenix Leupolu made the tournament team after an outstanding tournament, having been plagued by injury all season it was a satisfying moment to see him perform so well.

With this performance, the future of St Peters Basketball is looking very bright!
